SETTING UP THE ROOM AND CHECK-IN SYSTEM IS IMPORTANT IN CONTROLLING THE EXCITED AND INTERESTED MEMBERS

1. Close and block all entrances to the room, except the one at which you will be receiving the entries. It may be helpful to place a table across the doorway. Members browsing beforehand are difficult to remove from the room and may delay the start of judging. No one except the workers should be allowed in the display room until the judging is complete and the room is opened to the public.

2. Sit at the check-in with the proper forms where you will record the names of person submitting entries, a description of the item, and the assigned category. Depending on the contest level, recording should include club, county, or district. You can speed up the check-in time by dividing the categories between several helpers. The NCECA Cultural Arts Check IN/Out Form is designed to log in entries. Example: Divide applications by counties or district. Have lists divided before the day of the contest.

3. You will need several people to place the registered items on the proper tables. This is the time at which you should review the placement of items in their categories. If the contest is at the county level, you may question the category if you suspect it to be incorrect. You may NOT change the category but the person submitting the entry may make the change to the proper category at this time. At the district and state levels, NO ONE may change an item to another category. If it has been previously entered incorrectly, it will only be displayed but NOT JUDGED.

4. At NO time will any judge have the authority to reclassify an entry or to question if it should be moved to another category. The responsibility is yours as outlined above.

5. Articles entered must be packaged securely for handling while traveling. No crated items will be allowed. Packaging must be labeled with person’s name, county, district, and category.

6. JUDGES: When selecting judges for the creative writing items, care should be given to select qualified persons, giving them ample time to do fair judging. Retired librarians and English teachers may make good judges for these categories. Creative writing categories must reach coordinator three weeks prior to the contest.

7. The potential for lost entries is real; therefore, please DO NOT mail the original or only copy of the entry — Poem or short story. Please check with the author that she or he has kept a copy of their entry. Make a photocopy of the original. Send with Release Form to the coordinator.

8. You should select judges that are knowledgeable of the listed categories. Do not use ECA members or agents. Retired agents, the arts councils, quilt guilds, sewing clubs, and craft stores are good sources for the judges.

9. It is a common courtesy to show your gratitude by awarding each judge a small gift of appreciation. Never lose sight of the budget. The host district for the state meeting will be responsible for gifts for judges, with the assistance of the Cultural Arts Coordinator.
Each judge should be given a copy of the Criteria for Judging Form and a pad and pen for writing. Caution the judges to award a ribbon only where it is warranted. Do not award a ribbon just because only one or two items are entered in the category. However, remember we are encouraging creativity.

DURING THE JUDGING

1. Remain in the room to answer questions.
2. You will need two people to help. As the judging progresses, write the winner’s name, category, and date on the ribbon. This action will assure the winning ribbon stays with the correct item.
3. At this time, open ALL envelopes and place them with the entry so members can see who made the items.
4. Fill out the proper forms.
   - (a) County Level – 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Place Winners – Read to the members; give them a copy to county secretary, agent, and keep a copy for your file. Blue Ribbon Winners – Send a copy of district person ASAP and keep a copy for your file.
   - (b) District Level – 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Place Winners – Read to the members; give a copy to district secretary, agent, and keep a copy for your files. Blue Ribbon Winners – Send a copy to state person ASAP (at least three weeks prior to the state contest) and keep a copy for your file.
   - (c) State Level – 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Place Winners – Read to the members; give copy to state secretary and keep a copy for your file.
5. Work fast and be ready to announce the results when called upon.
6. Secure the area and ask that everyone PLEASE leave items on display until the members have viewed them.
7. Caution people not to handle the exhibits. NO FOOD or DRINK should be allowed in the exhibit area.

Note to Judges:
1. Judge the item only – not the way it is framed. Framing is to be considered only if all other things are equal.
2. Handwork should not take precedent over machine work. Judge the item for its design, workmanship, and creativity (particularly when selecting Best of Show.)
3. Ribbons should be awarded only where it is warranted, not just because only one or two items are entered in the category. However, please remember we are encouraging creativity.
